

Cloud DX and Medtronic Sign First Contract with Ontario Hospital

News in Summary

- First joint deployment for Cloud DX and Medtronic since their announcement of a strategic collaboration
- Hospital contract with St. Mary's General hospital in Kitchener, Ontario
- Initial deployment to support Pulmonary Rehab, with growth into other practices in the hospital

Kitchener, ON / February 23, 2022 / Cloud DX (TSXV:CDX) (OTC:CDXFF), a leading Virtual Care platform, and its partner Medtronic Canada ULC, a subsidiary of global healthcare leader Medtronic plc (NYSE:MDT), signed their first joint Remote Patient Monitoring contract. The contract will support Virtual Care delivery at St. Mary's General Hospital, in Kitchener, Ontario, and will commence with an initial deployment for the hospital's COPD Activation Program. The program will support pulmonary COPD rehab patients with online education and rehab therapy sessions twice a week over a four-week period. The contract comes as Cloud DX gains recognition as a leader in providing pulmonary therapy support and reports multiple high satisfaction ratings.

"We are pleased to announce this traction in our partnership with Cloud DX, the first of many contracts together. In our commitment to developing the virtual healthcare pathway, we are thrilled to work with Cloud DX and innovative hospitals, such as St. Mary's General Hospital," said Jessica Rudd, Director New Partnerships and Solutions at Medtronic Canada. "Virtual Care is a key component in the future of healthcare; it enhances many aspects of healthcare delivery from post-surgical support to at-home pulmonary rehab. It can bring patients and care teams closer together, improves patient outcomes, and helps to address our overloaded healthcare system. We look forward to supporting St. Mary's in delivering these benefits and growing our relationship together."

"Innovation is a priority at St. Mary's Hospital. Embracing new ways to deliver healthcare is important for our patients, staff, as well as the broader community. Innovations like Virtual Care delivery improves patient outcomes, and lowers hospitalization rates and re-admissions," added Sarah Farwell, Director, Strategy, Innovation and Communications at St. Mary's General Hospital. "As a direct result, it can alleviate burden on our hospital system, as well as help patients and their care teams better manage their condition and keep them well in the community. We anticipate these types of outcomes for patients of the pulmonary COPD rehab program, by partnering with our vendor of choice, Cloud DX and Medtronic. Patients love the easy-to-use technology. Our clinical team appreciates the thoughtfully developed clinician dashboard which eases workload and facilitates patient compliance. We're excited to be making strides in our goals to innovate healthcare, with healthtech leaders like Cloud DX and Medtronic."

"As a Kitchener based MedTech company, it is exciting to support a local hospital. With St. Mary's we will begin with the COPD Activation Program. This innovative program will offer online education and therapy sessions all via our Connected Health™ platform. It is clear this partnership between two renowned providers of healthcare services is an indication of things yet to come - especially when looking into how much more Virtual Care we can expect moving forward," said Robert Kaul, CEO and Founder of Cloud DX.
